Hey Lilly I know you won’t see this but I think you should totally make a productivity app themed like the vlogs! So maybe a person could make their own to do list and every time they check off a to do they get 1000 points? Idk if it makes sense but I feel like it would totally help me with being more productive because I struggle with procrastination a lot 😂

hey, why don't you guys create an app which helps in making to-do lists and getting points on complete them tasks, just like Lilly's everyday missions...making the team super more bawse and productive?.

You should make an organization app similar to your mission and video game points you use on your blogs. I tried to recreate it on a white board, but it’s not as fun. ☹

Y'all... What if Lilly really did make a "to do" app? like it follows the style of her missions and you get points like the vlogs and maybe have videos and phrases of Lilly for motivation and advice (ex. get you to not procrastinate) and you can share it with friends
